Subject: 3M Aerospace Sealant Portfolio Update

Dear Valued 3M Customer:

In a letter dated June 26, 2023, 3M communicated a timeline for the aerospace sealant transition to new product formulas. This letter will serve as an update to that communication.

Currently, 3M does not foresee a gap in service from the current product formulas to the new product formulas that will be available in 2025.

Please note the reformulation process and overall timing may be impacted by multiple factors required to successfully reformulate and qualify new products. Any significant changes to the reformulation timeline will be shared when available.
